LEADER OF GANG
OF CABARET KINGS
ADMITS ROBBERY

Detectives Believe Jackson Was One of Men Who Killed Texas Girl and Dot King.

MRS. HOWARD JOHNSON
DRUGGED AND ROBBED

Suspect Served Term in Atlanta and Other Prisons—New Clues Are Sought by Police.

New York, May 14.—With the confession of Harry Jackson, alias Lesser, alias Edman, that he drugged and robbed Mrs. Howard Johnson, wife of a playwright, the New York police are trying to identify Jackson as a leader of the gang responsible for the murder of Louise Lawson.

This gang, the police believe, functioned both as robbers and bootleggers. Jackson has already been partially identified as one of the two long-sought men who carried a case of liquor to Louise Lawson on the day she was strangled in her cozy West Seventy-second street apartment, and in confessing the robbery of Mrs. Johnson, Jackson admitted that bootlegging was his regular trade.

Seek to Identify Him.
While claiming to have strong clues which connect Jackson and his accomplices with the Lawson murder, the police are also working on a theory that the famous Dot King murder may have been one of the crimes of the same gang.

The elevator man in the apartment house where the Lawson murder was committed under circumstances similar to those surrounding the death of Dot King, was summoned to police headquarters to look at Jackson.

"He looks like one of the men who went up to her apartment; he blinks like him, too; but I'm not sure," said the elevator man.

In Jackson's apartment detectives found a pair of tortoise-shell glasses like those worn by one of the supposed Lawson murderers.

He Played Cabarets.
Jackson has also been identified as one of a gang which committed another recent apartment house holdup. Jackson played the Broadway cabarets, according to the police, where he obtained introduction to wealthy women whom he subsequently made the victims of his gang.

His woman companion, registered as his wife at the hotel where Mrs. Johnson was killed, was also identified as "Langevine" and other plays, was attacked and stripped of $9,000 in jewels, was still at liberty Wednesday night.

Jackson told the police that he was born in Dorchester, Mass., and that Senator Borah Declares World Engages in New Race for Supremacy in Armaments.

UNITY OF ALL NATIONS IS CURE, SAYS BORAH

Readmission of Russia to Family of Peoples Must Be Forerunner To Return to Sanity.

BY WILLIAM E. BORAH.
United States Senator from Idaho. The world is sick, and the only cure for its varied ills is a rehabilitation of itself, its resources, its ideals, its ideas. The vast body we call the world is in travail. It has not yet convalesced from the world war. Peace is not yet upon the peoples of the world and until it is, there can be no return to world health, world morals, world prosperity.

Our world is in misery and will continue so, until its ills—the lack of unity among its peoples—are cured. By that I mean the self-evident fact that a large part of the world, with millions of inhabitants, is still classed as outlaw. Russia, teeming with millions, with a government chosen voluntarily by her people, is considered an outlaw by America. Other nations have acknowledged the legality of the soviet government; we have not.

U. S. More Righteous.
We are more righteous than other nations; we require references of character; we need needs have assurance of good behavior—we would have Russia give bond for the future.

I believe that the unrest of the world, the lack of prosperity in all lands—the many symptoms of uneasiness—all these things are due to a large extent to the refusal of many nations, the United States among them, to recognize Russia as a sister in the family of nations.

The proposition is not a sentimental one. It is a simple economic problem. Something like 150,000,000 human beings dwell in Russia. They need food, clothing, materials, raw stuffs, machinery. In turn, they have things to sell which we need. But propaganda, fanatical intolerance and bigotry have said nay to the proposition to accept Russia's promise to remain stable.

Russia and the Ruhr.
There is scarcely a government in Europe which looks upon the future with complacency. Intolerance, racial antipathy, vengeance and no great power speaks the voice of conciliation, humanity and justice. Is it not time, after five years since the armistice,

Left Wing Leader

Senator William E. Borah (Republican), of Idaho, one of the most prominent among the left wing republicans, was elected to the senate in 1907. Four years before that he got 23 of the necessary 26 votes for such election.

Born in Illinois in 1865, he was educated at the University of Kansas, practiced law at Lyons, Kan., and went to Boise, Idaho, in 1891. He was a member of the republican national committee, 1908-12.

FOLEY IS ELECTED
TAMMANY LEADER

"New Era" Type of Politician Steps Into Shoes of Father-in-Law, Chas. F. Murphy.

New York, May 14.—Surrogate James A. Foley tonight was elected successor to the late Charles F. Murphy as leader of Tammany Hall. Only two of the 70 members of Tammany's executive committee voted against him.

Tammany men say Surrogate Foley is a model of the "new era" type of politician which the hall has been moulding in recent years.

His predecessors were mostly men of humble parentage and lowly environment, men born in the city's teeming tenement and water front districts who, by sheer force of physical prowess and inherent political acumen, fought their way to place and power.

Had Distinguished Career.
The new chieftain is 42 years old, a graduate of the local public schools and, with honors, of the College of the City of New York and the New York Law School. At the age of 25 he entered politics and straightaway followed him into the surrogate's office, where he was elevated to the state senate, where he remained until, in 1919, he was elected to the surrogate's bench by a plurality of 15,000, when every democrat on the ticket went down to defeat.

In the assembly, where he was floor leader, and in the senate Foley was considered one of the most nimble-minded and glib-tongued orators of either party.

In the constitutional convention, he, Governor Smith and Supreme Court Justice Robert F. Wagner scored forensic victories over the best legal talent of the state.

Record of Achievements.
His record of legislative achievements covers a wide field. He sponsored in the senate the first comprehensive bill providing a living wage for women. He fathered the workmen's compensation law, the eight-hour bill for women, the teachers' salary increase bill, a municipal ownership bill and a waterpower development bill, giving the state control of all hydro-electric development. He was the prime mover in legislation which saved New Yorkers an estimated $7,500,000 annually in telephone rate reductions. Always he has been a leader in the fight for "home rule" for this city.

Foley's reputation for reform followed him into the surrogate's office, where one of his first acts was to obtain legislation increasing the fees revenue of the county by $60,000 a year.

The new chieftain is a step-son-in-law of the late Charles F. Murphy. He is an ardent collector of rare volumes, has a noted library and is a great reader.

Surrogate Foley will resign from the bench within a few days. His present office carries a salary of $15,000 a year.

SLAYER OF HART
WILL KNOW FATE
BY NOON TODAY

Governor Walker Announces That He Will Hand Down Decision Before He Leaves Atlanta.

EXECUTIVE EXPECTED TO REFUSE CLEMENCY

J. B. Satterfield Shot and Killed Hart in 1921; Many Efforts Made To Save Life.

Governor Clifford Walker, who starts a week of speech-making at college commencements today, will make known his decision in the case of J. B. Satterfield, sentenced to hang in Fulton tower Friday, May 23, before he leaves the city at noon, he stated Wednesday.

While no intimation has been made officially, it is generally believed in capital circles that the governor will refuse to extend executive clemency to the condemned man.

Killed Brother-in-law.
Satterfield was convicted of the murder of R. H. Hart, his brother-in-law. Hart was shot to death in a hotel at the corner of Whitehall street and Trinity avenue in December, 1921. After the killing, Satterfield escaped, but was apprehended about a year later, in California, and brought back to Atlanta for trial.

At the trial, Satterfield's defense was one of insanity, claiming that alleged ill treatment of his two daughters, for which he placed the responsibility on Hart, had driven him to a point of mental frenzy. However, the jury found him guilty without recommendation, which, under the Georgia law, makes a sentence of death with no discretion on the part of the trial judge.

The case was appealed to the supreme court of the state and lost there. Then the prison commission was asked to recommend clemency, but refused, leaving the only hope of the doomed man in the governor.

Plans for Satterfield.
Many efforts have been made to induce the governor to show mercy to Satterfield. Attorney Murphy Holloway, counsel for Satterfield, has held several extended conferences with the chief executive of the state. On the other hand, Solicitor General John A. Boykin has argued that the sentence of the jury should stand, and he has been supported in his arguments by Mrs. Hart, widow of the slain man, who appeared before the governor recently.

Satterfield originally was sentenced to hang about three weeks ago, but at that time the governor granted a 28-day respite in order that he might more fully examine the record in the case.

If Satterfield dies on the gallows, as now appears probable, he will be the first white man executed in Fulton county since Frank Dupre, famous box bandit, was hanged early in 1923.

COOLIDGE WRITES VETO FOR BONUS
Senate Expected To Sustain Action of Executive; House Will Vote To Override Veto.

Washington, May 14.—Veto of the soldier bonus bill was forecast by word from the white house Wednesday that President Coolidge is preparing a message to congress on the measure. The only occasion for a message regarding the bill would be to inform congress of the veto and the reasons for it. There would be no such communication were the president contemplating signing the bill.

The president has obtained reports on the bill from the treasury department and the veterans' bureau and the analysis made in these reports will furnish the material for the veto message.

Never since his first message to congress declared his opposition to a bonus has Coolidge shown any indication that he would recede from his position.

The house has enough votes to pass the measure over a veto, but it is doubtful if the senate will do so.

100 Cases Made on Wednesday
On Various Traffic Charges

Police forces of Atlanta again did a rush business Wednesday as the war on speeding and reckless driving hit its stride. Sixty-five new cases were docketed, 19 involving charges of speeding, seven reckless driving, 39 were booked under the blanket charge, "violating the traffic ordinances," the alleged infractions ranging from burning glaring headlights and "jay-walking" to running without tail lights and parking in prohibited zones.

At the same time, the recorder's court was equally busy. During sessions of Wednesday 82 cases were tried, resulting in imposition of fines on 74 drivers and dismissals of charges against eight others. Fines imposed netted the city $1,181.

Two officers reported Wednesday night that they had made 35 cases, but would not docket them until this morning. This makes 100 cases for Wednesday.

Southern Baptists, assembled in annual convention in the city auditorium and voting almost as one man, Wednesday afternoon mapped out for themselves the largest task they have ever undertaken, when 5,000 registered delegates pledged themselves to raise $21,167,147.21 to supplement the sum of $53,832,852.79 that has already been raised in the 75-million campaign which was launched in this city in 1919.

Other features of Wednesday's session were refusal of the convention to enter into alliance with the northern Baptist conference or any other religious organization in handling the negro problem, and election of Dr. G. W. McDaniel, pastor of the First Baptist church of Richmond and president of the Virginia General association, as president of the convention. In addition, a full slate of officers was chosen.

The report of the conservation commission, Dr. L. R. Scarborough, chairman, showed that $53,832,852 had been raised during the four and one-half years of the progress of the great movement, and that the remainder of the $75,000,000 pledged must be raised before the last day of December. In adopting the commission's report, the convention formally went on record as approving the plan to re-organize all forces and put forth the most strenuous efforts to reach

Negro Boy, Said To Have Been Stealing Ride, Killed—Only Two Other Accidents Reported.

Although a negro boy was killed and another may die of his injuries, police officials Wednesday declared that motorists and pedestrians as well were showing greater care than ever before in the observance of traffic rules of the city. Members of the police force were urged on to increased energy, however, in the war on speeding and recklessness, which has cut a swath of death across Atlanta.

Captain M. V. Barnett, head of the traffic department, declared at a meeting of the Atlanta Safety council Wednesday afternoon that motorists generally are already impressed with the business-like attitude of the police in suppressing menacing automobile drivers, and he gave credit for the great improvement to The Constitution.

"The way The Atlanta Constitution handled the news of the traffic situation in its Wednesday morning's issue," stated Captain Barnett in his address, "was a revelation to me in point of the effect it had on drivers everywhere. I would never have believed that one issue of a newspaper could so convert Atlanta drivers to safety methods and practices, if I had not witnessed it in the case of this morning's Constitution."

Following Captain Barnett's address, the Atlanta Safety council adopted resolutions extending thanks to The Constitution for "its splendid cooperation in the campaign to make Atlanta safe for motorists and pedestrians."

Bond Propaganda Charge Is Denied

By John Hancock

Charges by Attorney Gordon Mitchell that printing presses are being installed in every public school to print school tax and school bond propaganda were emphatically denied by John T. Hancock, president of the school board, in one of several spirited exchanges of claims at the public hearing on proposed school changes before the charter revision committee of council Wednesday afternoon.

President Hancock explained that printing presses had been given to several schools by Parent-Teacher associations and other outside agencies and were being used in the schools to give practical training to students in English, punctuation, spelling and other subjects, knowledge of which is required in printing. The board, he said, has purchased some equipment for these printing plants not to exceed $800 in all.

board is willing to cooperate with tax authorities of the city by requiring parents or guardians of school children to furnish a statement as to whether they have paid taxes at the time the child is enrolled in school.

"Under the law we can not exclude a child from school because his parents or guardian has not paid taxes," President Hancock said, "but we can ask information on that point."

President Hancock and several citizens spoke in support of the W. W. Gaines charter amendment proposal to give the school board power to levy a tax not in excess of $1 on each $100 of property values, to call school bond elections without permission of council, and otherwise to make the school department independent of other branches of the city government.

Defends Independent Boards. President Hancock quoted figures from other American cities in Atlanta's population class to prove his claim that independent school boards do not spend a great deal more money per child or per capita than boards dependent on city council or other revenue-raising bodies for support.

He said that a bond issue of $6,500,000 would be necessary to enlarge the school plant sufficiently to accommodate pupils who will be enrolled during the next year and to give adequate housing to pupils now in school. He said that a special emergency tax of 35 cents on the $100 would be necessary to meet the present shortage of operating funds.

Judge George Hillyer, former mayor of Atlanta, opposed the independent school board and declared that all other city departments were as inadequately supported as the schools and that all departments should be supported alike. He said that schools might be closed for a period of months without imperilling life and property in the city, but that a shutdown of the waterworks, police, fire or sanitary departments would occasion actual loss of life and property.

"If the school department is given independent taxing powers, every other department would have the same claim to such powers," Judge Hillyer asserted.

Mitchell Assails Figures. Attorney Mitchell, opposing the independent school board, attacked use of figures on what other cities spend on schools, declaring that no two cities are alike, that Atlanta water costs more to deliver to homes than cities where it does not have to be pumped higher than the source of supply, that other cities have different sources of wealth on which to draw such as ports, mineral deposits and the like.

"Atlanta is built on real estate, hot air and nothing else," the attorney declared. "When you make it impossible to own real estate profitably because of high taxes, you ruin Atlanta."

J. H. Ewing, chairman of the tax committee of the real estate board, opposed the Gaines plan, declaring that as far as he knew there had not been a single piece of central property bought or sold in Atlanta since the Gaines plan was first proposed.

The committee was called by Chairman W. E. Sanders to meet again at 2:30 o'clock next Wednesday. He said as many meetings would be held as necessary to give everyone who wants to speak on school changes an opportunity to do so.

The full membership of the committee was in attendance. Chairman Saunders, Aldermen W. B. Hartsfield, Claude F. Buchanan, Councilmen Harry York and Wiley Moore.

The two were brought to Macon last night from Valdosta.

Man and Wife Dead Son Is Near Death: Poison Food Blamed

Royston, Ga., May 14.—(Special.) The viscera of D. F. McGarity tonight is en route to Atlanta for examination, and doctors here are battling for the life of his seven-year-old son. His wife died Monday. The circumstances surrounding the two strange deaths point to poison placed in the food Saturday a week ago, doctors and investigating officers state.

Mr. McGarity, 53, was a prominent Hart county planter. No satisfactory theory relative to the suspected poisoning had been advanced late tonight.

Atlanta chemists tonight had not received the viscera of D. F. McGarity, alleged poison victim, which was sent here from Royston today.

Reservations for the schools, which will be in session from June 12 to June 18, are now being received by Mr. Outler, and present prospects are that 500 students will attend.

NEGRO WHO SLEW IN ROW OVER EGGS GETS LIFE TERM

Louisville, Ga., May 14.—(Special.)—Ed Jackson, negro, convicted in superior court here today, was given a life sentence for the killing of McKinley Wilson. The slaying took place on James L. Smith's farm, near Wrens, in the early spring evidence showed. There were no eyewitnesses to the killing, which is said to have resulted after a dispute over pay for a dozen eggs Jackson claimed that Wilson owed him for and for which he went to the field where Wilson was working to demand payment when the dispute arose.

ONE OF THE COMPLETE LINE OF LEE TIRE!

LEE Balloons

The Perfected Balloon Cord Tires

The small units of the Lee tread combine thick rubber for wear, with extreme flexibility for comfort.

Lee makes no claim to be the originator of the Balloon Tire. But, during the period of early experimentation, Lee Engineers have been close and constant observers of the many new problems involved in the production of this type of casing. Each innovation brought forward has been carefully tested (on Lee test cars, not on those belonging to Lee customers), and, if proved of value, perfected and adapted to the Lee Balloon.

The result—a perfected balloon tire, incorporating every element known to date which would make for greater comfort, safety, wear and economy. A tire past the experimental stage.

We Can Supply Both Wheels and Tires

To make the change-over from regular cords to balloons easier for you, we have on hand a complete stock of Lee-Service (small diameter) Wheels. If you prefer to retain your present wheels we can fit balloons to those also. In other words, we are equipped to render you a complete service on balloon tires. Come in and talk it over. Or send for our free booklet giving the whole story of balloons and their advantages from your personal point of view.

If you own a life insurance policy, you are probably an indirect investor in the South. Life insurance companies have invested more money in Southern railway securities and bonds than in any other part of the country. Beautiful New Park In Marietta Square To Be Opened Soon

Improvements and installation of additional equipment, which will make the park in the public square at Marietta one of the most beautiful of its size in the south, are nearing completion, and the remodeled park will be opened to the public in the near future. All improvements are being made by Len Baldwin, chairman of the park commission, and his associate, J. J. Black.

A total sum of $2,500 is being spent and the new park will provide an ideal place for public gatherings of any kind, as well as a wonderful playground for children.

Among improvements are the building of concrete walks throughout the park, and construction of a new bandstand. A well-known landscape gardener has had charge of planting shrubs and trees, and many varieties of early blooming flowers are now in blossom.

Swings, chute-the-chutes, teeter-totters and other equipment offering amusement for children have been purchased, and will be put in place before the formal opening. Sand piles already have been built.

A radio receiving set will be installed, and a number of radio and band concerts are planned for the summer.

nor real prosperity in the United States—until two outstanding problems are adjusted. Russia and the Ruhr. The Ruhr problem has passed to a great extent out of our hands, but the Russian problem is ours to control. We can adjust it and do so without sacrificing any principle or compromising any of our rights. Here are 150,000,000 people outlawed. It is a menace of the peace of Europe. Does any one really believe that anything in the nature of real peace can obtain in Europe so long as the Russian problem is unsettled?

to make a real effort to establish a spirit of amity and to bring, in so far as possible, accord among nations? There can be no peace in Europe—

Can you have peace in Europe, can you have disarmament, can you even make a start to accomplish these things until Russia is back in the family of nations? To fail to adjust the Russian problem is to foment and keep alive the spirit of distrust and to justify the piling up of armament and the increasing of taxes upon the people without limit.

We are traveling the same road over which the nations traveled for 25 years prior to 1914!

Tax Cut Called Dire Need.

A domestic problem which I consider of paramount importance is the dire necessity of reducing our tax burdens. It is not merely that we are weighed down with direct taxes—$88 to every inhabitant of the United States—but that this taxation is causing indirectly the collapse of agriculture. Agriculture is heavily burdened. The production has been and is too large for the shrinking markets of the world. Our farmers are in dire straits. More than 500 banks in the northwestern agricultural regions have failed under the terrific burden of unpaid and unpayable farm mortgages.

Taxation is a complicated thing. The taxpayer is not only carrying the burdens of his own government, but things have come about so that he is carrying the burdens of foreign governments—unrepaid foreign

And taxes lie most heavily upon our farmers. Out in the great agricultural areas where, in the last analysis, must be found the sources of national wealth and contentment—the place from which we are fed—there is going on a patient, dogged struggle for the preservation of homes and farms such as no man can understand who has not witnessed it. Men and women who have tamed the desert, suffered and sacrificed, denied themselves, and under the most adverse circumstances opened farms, now, with 50 years of struggle behind them, stand in mortal dread of the coming tax collector with his ever-increasing call.

They have seen their tax burdens mount 200 per cent in the brief space of a few years, and while reflecting over what has happened, they are even more anxious about what may happen. The man of naturalism, of spending is even more alarming than their present plight. They are losing faith in the government—and no greater catastrophe could come to us than that.

Public Opinion the Base.

Men may differ honestly as to details of tax reduction, but certainly men can not differ as to our task or our duty. I maintain that when homes are threatened, when citizenship itself is imperilled, when waste and extravagance and corruption are eating their deadly course through the whole fabric of government and rotting out the fibre of society, failure to stand up and fight true is no less reprehensible than failure to do your duty when your country is assailed by foreign foe.

There is no avoiding or sidestepping this issue. One has a right to be for tax reduction, or one has a right to be for bonus for soldiers, but you cannot be for both. You cannot take off a temporary burden of $130,000,000 or so, and lay on a permanent burden of obligation of $1,000,000,000 or $5,000,000,000, and call it tax reduction.

Need Public Opinion.

There is little hope of success for any issue, no matter how vital, except through the irresistible power of public opinion.

I am against the so-called bonus. It is the greatest obstacle to tax reduction. It is now five years since the end of the war. The returned soldiers have taken up their several vocations and calling and are affected by the conditions in the country the same as other citizens. They cannot succeed when business, industry and agriculture are embarrassed or discouraged. The pittance granted to them individually will mean nothing in the sum-total of their well-being or their success, but everything and anything which contributes to the rehabilitation and revival of economic and business conditions throughout the country will mean a permanent prosperity and success to the soldier far beyond anything which individual aid would mean.

The world is sick and only reduction in burdens and expenditures—a return to the comity of nations—peace with your fellow human beings—only these things will make the world well again.

Tomorrow—Gov. Gifford Pinchot.

LAST SERVICES FOR MRS. BOWDEN SET FOR SUNDAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Katie Cheriton Bowden, wife of Rev. Ernest J. Bowden, pastor of the Liberal Christian church, who died late Tuesday at a private hospital, will be held at 11 o'clock Sunday morning from the Liberal Christian church. Rev. Frank H. Shipman, assisted by Rev. John W. Rowlett, will conduct services. Interment will be in West View, with Greenberg & Bond in charge.

Mrs. Bowden was born May 24, 1866, in London, England, but moved to Stroud, Gloucestershire, when a small child, spending her girlhood there. She came to the United States in 1905, residing in California for many years, and then moved to Atlanta a year ago when Dr. Bowden accepted a call to the Liberal Christian church here.

After her marriage in 1903, Mrs. Bowden spent considerable time with her husband in Canada, where he served on a Methodist circuit, at an Indian boarding school, and later in a school on an Indian reserve in British Columbia. The couple also resided at Milford, N. H., and Lawrence, Mass., before moving to California in 1917.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by two brothers, W. W. Cheriton, of Rugby, England, and a brother residing in New Zealand, and two sisters, Mrs. F. E. Stephens and Miss Mary Cheriton, both of Sealeys, England.

MRS. BURT'S FUNERAL WILL BE HELD TODAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Kate L. Burt, Atlanta woman who died Tuesday while visiting a son, L. W. Burt, on Little street, Simons island, will be held today from the chapel of H. M. Patterson & Son.

Mrs. Burt's sudden death is attributed to heart trouble. She was the widow of Dr. W. P. Burt, former well-known Atlantan, and had resided here since moving to this city from America many years ago.

In addition to W. P. Burt, Mrs. Burt is survived by two sons, C. P. Burt, of Galveston, and Jack Burt, of Valparaiso, Ind., and two daughters, Mrs. J. E. Brantley, of Savannah, and Mrs. Joe Redwine, of Chicago.

Thousands of Persons Have Fallen Arches And Do Not Know It

Thousands of persons have been sadly mistaken that tired, burning, aching, tender feet are due to pinching or rubbing of their shoes; and other severe pains, aches and cramps in their feet, legs, knees, thighs and hips are often wrongly attributed to rheumatism, sciatica, etc. At the first sign of any cramp, aches or pains starting from the foot should be carefully looked after. The Wizard Lightfoot Arch Appliance are so scientifically constructed that all of these foot conditions can be restored to normal only through scientific adjustment of the little over-lapping pockets, so arranged as to give support to any distorted or misshapen condition in the foot.

Atlanta Elks Make Plans For Auto Trip To Augusta

More than 1,000 Atlanta Elks will attend the annual convention of Georgia Elks in Augusta May 21-22, according to announcement Wednesday. A large number of women will make the trip and 200 automobiles will take a majority of Atlanta's delegation to the convention city, leaving next Sunday morning.

B. C. Broyles, secretary of the local lodge, and Al H. Martin, chairman of the "On-to-Augusta" committee, returned Tuesday from Augusta where final preparations for the trip and entertainment features en route and during the convention were arranged. The caravan of 200 automobiles will form one of the longest processions of its kind ever attempted. Elk officials pointed out. En route to Augusta the caravan will pass through several wide-awake Georgia cities where elaborate reception plans have been arranged.

The Elks' Troubadours, a famous musical organization in Elks circles; the Elks' patrol, and the band of the collection here, has included 300 of the finest examples of the work of modern American artists, and between country, stopping in each city to render special programs.

In cities through which the caravan passes citizens are planning receptions including barbecues, free lunches, soft drinks and other features. At Madison women of that city will present huge bouquets of roses to all women visitors in the caravan, and at Warrenton a barbecue will be tendered. The fans of the Elks' patrol, the crack organization of the local lodge, which is being groomed to carry away first honors at the national convention in Boston this summer, has spread throughout the nation, and special places for the patrol to stage a short program, to accompaniment of music by the Elks' band and the famous troubadours, have been arranged in many towns.

Roads between Atlanta and Augusta are excellent, according to Mr. Martin, and this will greatly tend to augment the number of cars making up the Atlanta caravan, he said. The trip is a pleasant one, he points out, and while plans are being made for 200 cars, Mr. Martin said that in all probability there will be many more.

Banquet at New Biltmore To Open Big Art Exhibit

BY RALPH T. JONES.

Five hundred and forty invitations have been issued to the banquet at the Biltmore hotel Saturday night, which will mark the formal opening of Atlanta's million-dollar art exhibit, to be shown there for two weeks, from May 17 to 31.

The collection of paintings and sculpture is now nearly all arranged in the ballroom and parlors of the hotel, and when the doors are finally thrown open at 10:30 o'clock Saturday night, Atlanta and the south will find what is undoubtedly the greatest collection of modern American art ever sent out of New York.

The Grand Central Art galleries, of New York, which is sending the collection here, has included 300 of the finest examples of the work of modern American artists, and between

JUDGE GUS HOWARD.

(Editorial—Macon Telegraph)

The Atlanta papers announce that Judge Gus Howard will stand for reelection to the post of superior court judge in Fulton. Much was said at the time of his appointment as to the various details and circumstances that surrounded that appointment. Many are still of the opinion that affairs could have been better handled, and that somebody botched matters along the line. But now that the problem is largely one of future occupancy, the electorate themselves will have the opportunity to decide.

It is only fair to say that, according to watchful opinion in Atlanta, Judge Howard has made a good judge, and has given in general excellent satisfaction. Naturally there are those who are his enemies, but outside of the biased, the judgment is that he has executed his duties well and faithfully.

A petition has been received by the commission from the Gas Light company of Augusta for permission to issue $50,000 in bonds to reimburse the treasury for money spent on improvements and betterments. Hearing on the petition has been set for June 10.

SENATORS DEMAND VOTE ON SHOALS

Washington, May 14.—Demand was made on the floor of the senate today by Senators Shields, Democrat, Tennessee, and Hefflin, Democrat, Alabama, for a vote on a measure to develop Muscle Shoals at this session of congress.

Chairman Norris, of the agriculture committee, which has the question under consideration, replied that he favored a vote at this session, and said no effort was being made to prevent one.

Senator Norris told the senate his bill providing for government ownership and operation had the approval of most members of the agriculture committee.

When the report of the committee is submitted, the Nebraska senator said, it will contain information showing the possibilities of Muscle Shoals have never been realized.

Business Proposition. Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, joined in the request for a quick settlement of the issue while Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, spoke against the Henry Ford offer, deeming the Detroit manufacturer should be regarded as a shrewd business man and his contract considered solely as a business proposition.

Criticism by Senator Robinson, Democrat, of failure of the senate to obtain a quorum to consider important legislation pending brought a retort from Senator Norris that it is impossible to attend senate sessions without delaying the Muscle Shoals hearings, which issue he described as one of the most important.

Senator Hefflin charged there was a combined effort on the part of the power companies to prevent Ford from obtaining Muscle Shoals and he declared Ford is entitled to a decision on his bid. He asked that the hearings be concluded this week and, if necessary, all of the Muscle Shoals bills be submitted to the senate. He declared he would oppose adjournment without delaying the Muscle Shoals question was settled.

Denies Propaganda. Chairman Norris declared there was no truth in the "propaganda" that has been going around that the committee favored abandoning Muscle Shoals. He said he had seen no evidence of a combined effort of the power companies to thwart Ford and he favored concluding the hearings as quickly as possible.

Norris said he would not think of favoring abandonment of the property. He declared it had been constructed with the people's money and it must be completed. He estimated dam No. 2 would be finished one year after next July and dam No. 3 from three to five years hence.

Senator Reed delivered an attack on the Detroit manufacturer, declaring he did not believe Ford was "such an archangel of purity as some people think he is. Even if he is as good as some people think he is, he is not going to live forever. The contract is to run a long time. When this government deals with him, it had better treat him as a shrewd, keen business man and protect itself. I think the government ought to complete the dam, hold it and wholesale the power. That will not put the Routine Reports Feature Session of Baptist W. M. U.

An address by Mrs. W. C. James, president of the Baptist Woman's Missionary union, auxiliary to the Southern Baptist convention, was the feature of Wednesday's session of the union.

The program Wednesday began with devotional service, led by Mrs. Janie Cree Rose, of Kentucky, and was followed by presentation of greetings from Baptist missionaries in foreign fields. After the president's address on "The Challenge of the Heights," loving cups and banners were awarded societies reaching the highest standard of excellence and securing the largest net increase in members.

A report was made on the union's activities for the past year by Miss Ethel Winfield, who has been filling the duties of secretary for the past nine months for Miss Kathleen Malory, recently returned from a trip to the Orient. Reports also were made by young people's secretary and college correspondent, and one for field workers, by Miss Blanche Snyder White.

Mrs. George B. Eager, Kentucky, gave a talk at noon on "W. M. U. training school and its work."

At the afternoon session, Mrs. A. J. Arent, Mississippi, chairman of the advisory committee of the Baptist Bible institute, read a report for the institute. Other reports were read on the Margaret fund committee, by Mrs. Frank Burney, Georgia, and on the personal service department, by Mrs. H. M. Whitson. Three talks were made concerning work in foreign mission fields and presentation of W. M. U. plan of work.

Wednesday night's session included devotional, led by Mrs. James G. Smith, Alabama, and a pantomime demonstration entitled "The Kingdom Come."

Thursday's program begins at 9:30 government in business in the offensive sense.

Some coming to believe that these great natural resources which yield light and power should be kept as nearly in public control as possible. We people of the United States must look after ourselves. The slobber and gush about him makes me tired. If some other people were practicing business methods as Henry Ford uses, he would be standing upon their hind legs making the rocks ring with protest."

SENATE OIL PROBERS CONCLUDE SESSIONS

Washington, May 14.—The senate oil committee today tentatively closed its hearings on the naval oil leases, which have contributed many colorful chapters to American legislative history since they began last October.

Adjournment was taken subject to call of the chair. Senator Walsh, of Montana, the committee prosecutor, said he had no more witnesses to call and would not ask for another hearing unless the courts should compel Harry P. Sinclair to return and answer the questions to which he has heretofore refused to reply.

Senator Spencer, Republican, Missouri, indicated there was a possibility he might ask later that one or two pieces of additional testimony be added to the record.

Until there is a decision in the Sinclair contempt case, pending in the District of Columbia courts, the committee probably will stand in indefinite recess. Most of the information it has gathered already has been turned over to the law department of the government. Committee men seek occasion to hasten a report to the senate.

Sumter Farmers Will Use $60,000 In Weevil Fight

Americus, Ga., May 14.—(Special.) Financial difficulties are not to be permitted to stand in the way of any Sumter county farmer using calcium arsenate in poisoning his cotton crop against the boll weevil, according to plans of a steering committee, of which Judge James A. Hixon is chairman. Ample financial resources are possessed by this committee, with the ultimate outlay for poison, poison machinery estimated at $60,000. Dusting machines will be provided also.

This committee will care for any farmer who is unable to secure banking credits with which to buy poison and dusting machines. The materials are to be sold to such farmers at wholesale cost. Associated with Judge Hixon on his committee are many prominent farmers and business men.

Sumter farmers are aroused as never before in a determined effort to control the boll weevil during the next 45 days and thereby produce a good weevil normal cotton crop in Sumter county this fall.

BIG INCREASE SHOWN IN DEMAND FOR BOOKS

More than 228,786 books were taken to Atlanta homes from the Carnegie library from January to April, the library's report disclosed Wednesday. The report showed that interest in the library and demands upon its stock of books for the first four months in 1924 was one-fourth greater than for the same period in 1923. Additional assistants for the main library office have been recommended. The report showed that 250 books a day are being loaned at the new Stewart avenue branch of the library.

DRAGON FORREST HITS UNDERWOOD

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Nathan Bedford Forrest, grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan in Georgia, declared in a signed statement issued here Wednesday that "the statement issued by the Underwood committee in Washington was inspired by an effort to divert attention from their candidate's wet record and obscure the real issue in the campaign."

"The real issue in the campaign for the democratic presidential nomination is the prohibition question," the statement said. "Senator Underwood, of Alabama, is just as 'wet' as Governor Al Smith, of New York, and the statement issued by the Underwood committee in Washington was inspired by an effort to divert attention from their candidate's wet record and obscure the real issue of the campaign."

"The Knights of the Ku Klux Klan is a fraternal patriotic order and is not in politics, as its members well know. In the presidential preference campaign in Georgia, Senator Underwood went out of his way to attack and abuse the Klan, and Klansmen naturally welcomed his overwhelming defeat at the polls."

"After the primary, when it became apparent that the Underwood forces in Georgia, under Mr. Clark Howell's influence, were trying to take at the state convention the fruits of the McLeod victory at the polls, the Klansmen were warned to be on their guard. They heeded the warning and Mr. Howell was properly defeated for reelection as national committeeman from Georgia."

"The statement issued by the Underwood managers at Washington is an admission that his candidacy was defeated for reelection as national committeeman from Georgia."

A small petrified forest, consisting of a number of stumps and fallen logs has been discovered in the hills that rim the Mohave desert, 135 miles northeast of Los Angeles, California.

Cashier Returns $12,000 He Took And Faces Charge

Columbus, Ga., May 14.—James R. Jackson, cashier of the Phenix-Girard Bank at Phenix City, Ala., until yesterday morning, when he disappeared with $12,000 in currency, later bringing the money back to the bank officials, today looks at the world from behind steel bars of the Seale, Ala., jail.

Jackson is charged with embezzlement. The warrant for his arrest was sworn out late yesterday when the president of the bank appeared before a justice of the peace.

A statement made public today by the Columbus Clearing House association, of which the Alabama bank is a member, announced that the actual shortage on the books was $22,263.02, and with the exception of $12,000 of the $12,000 taken in the suitcase by Jackson was found when he returned yesterday afternoon with his brother from Thomaston.

Jackson repeatedly refused to talk with newspapermen while the check-up was being effected at the bank yesterday and today maintained his silence. No intimation has ever been made as to the cause of the disappearance of Jackson with the money and his subsequent return.

CONFEDERATE VETS URGE WORLD PEACE IN RESOLUTIONS

Savannah, Ga., May 14.—Camp 756, United Confederate veterans, at a regular meeting last night adopted a resolution asking that every effort be made to bring about world peace and abolish war. A copy of the resolution will be sent the Georgia delegation in congress. General D. B. Morgan, secretary of the camp, said General Sherman had aptly described the war and wanted no more of it.

A committee headed by General P. W. "Fiddler" was named to solicit funds to aid in the erection of a Confederate monument in Los Angeles, Cal.

REFUSE TO TAKE PART IN ALL WAR

Springfield, Mass., May 14.—Refusal of the Methodist church to take part in war was recommended to the Methodist Episcopal general conference by the standing committee on the state of the church, that committee voted today, 75 to 37. An amendment to except wars fought for self-defense or the defense of humanity was tabled by a vote of 59 to 41.

The resolution condemned war, urged the United States to conduct a peace campaign of education and to enter the world court and "an association of nations." It concluded: "While recognizing the freedom of the individual member to follow his own conscience, but remembering that the church is the visible expression of Christ in the world, we as an organization separate ourselves from war and take no part in its promotion."

The resolution read as follows: "The hour has struck for the church to take positive and practical steps to end war. The peoples of the world are appealing to the church, as the organized expression of Christ's way of life, to lead the way. Methodism, a world church, dedicated to world service, has extraordinary opportunity and obligation in this crisis.

"Facing this challenge and answering this appeal, the Methodist Episcopal church declares for the right and responsibility of the church to utter moral judgment concerning the nature of war; for the freedom of the individual member of the church to follow the dictates of his own conscience, whether as an individual he can support or engage in war; for the inauguration of an educational campaign which shall seek to reveal to all our people the nature, causes and consequences of war, and its relation to the Christian ideal of the Kingdom of God; for the removal of the causes of war, such as selfish nationalism, economic imperialism and militarism; and for the establishing and codifying international law, by immediately entering the permanent court of international justice, and by securing the participation of the church in an effective association of nations.

"We urge all other Christian bodies to join us in declaring that war violates the spirit and purposes of Jesus. It is a method to attain an end. That end may be righteous or sinful, but the method is its very nature is the same in either case. Whatever may be true concerning the past, it is evident that this method is unable to achieve the great moral aims of justice, brotherhood and peace.

"This method roots fundamentally in force and in no sense guarantees that right will prevail. Consequently, while recognizing the freedom of the individual member to follow his own conscience, but remembering that the church is the visible expression of Christ in the world, we as an organization separate ourselves from war and take no part in its promotion."

The reports ordered closed were the Palais Royal, the Plantation, the Moulin Rouge, the Mont de Paris, the Club Royale, the Balmoral club, the Barn club and the 400 club, all in the "white light belt," and the Club Gallant, in Greenwich village.

All the cafes are owned by one corporation, the Thompson-Salvin Co. United States District Attorney William Haywood said he had secured evidence against them from waiters and other employees who recently went on strike.

A special grand jury which had been impaneled to hear evidence against the nine places, dismissed when the owners of the cabaret chain consented to submit to the padlock order. A United States marshal and a squad of deputies immediately left the courtroom to make the rounds of the cafes and place them under lock and key.

Gadsden, Ala., May 14.—Cellie Mosely, 22, brakeman, is dead; Amos Kendrick, fireman, is reported dying, and John Price, engineer, and Tom Clark, brakeman, are seriously injured as a result of a freight train on the Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia railroad crashing through Yellow Creek bridge in Cherokee county, Alabama, today.

Railroad officials believe damage to the bridge from a fire recently is responsible for its giving away under the freight train. Traffic was only resumed over the bridge yesterday, following repairs. Information was that the engine and several box cars piled into the creek.

Kendrick suffered internal injuries and was rushed to a Gadsden hospital. Clark's arm was broken and Price was badly bruised.

HYLAN REVOKES PAROLE BUCKET SHOT OPERATOR

New York, May 14.—At the direction of Mayor Hylan, the parole of Jules C. Rabner, convicted bucket shot operator, was revoked today, and he was removed to the penitentiary from which he was recently released after serving three months of an indeterminate sentence.

When the mayor was given a copy of the testimony taken by David Hirschfeld, commissioner of accounts, who has been investigating the circumstances surrounding Rabner's release, he summoned Michael Fogarty and Harry Stackell, members of the parole commission, and ordered that the parole granted Rabner be revoked.

FRANK McDOWELL PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Clearwater, Fla., May 14.—Frank McDowell, confessed slayer of two sisters and his parents, was arraigned in court here this afternoon and pleaded not guilty to two indictments charging him with the murder of his mother and father. Circuit Judge McMillen set the date of his trial for June 9.

McDowell confesses to having burned his two sisters in their home in Decatur, Ga., and a year later killed his parents by shooting them while they slept in their home in St. Louis, Mo., to which city they had removed.

McDowell is in the county jail here and appears confident he will emerge from his predicament in some manner. He declared that when the jury is explained his condition they will know he is not responsible for his actions, but that he was led by some unknown power to do the terrible murders.

The slaying by Frank McDowell of his parents and his subsequent confession that he had killed his two sisters, William and Marion, on exactly the same date a year ago, aroused great public indignation and commotion not only in Atlanta but throughout the south.

McDowell, in statements to newspapers, declared that he had been actuated in his crimes in a desire to escape a "bad" against the Holy Ghost which he had committed as a child, and for which he claimed "only the blood of the anti-christ could atone."

It was thought that his two previous life showed that as a boy he had been of a studious turn of mind and had sought little companionship.

Investigations into his previous life showed that he had been a match to it after locking the doors and bolting the windows.

Throughout the day which followed his arrest, McDowell maintained that his parents had directed him in the planning and execution of his crimes.

Allienists and psychological experts throughout the country commented on his case with greatly varied opinion, some holding him to be merely insane and others of the opinion that he was actuated by a morbid or selfish motive and was feigning insanity or religious mania.

Sheriff Slain In Gun Battle, Georgian Jailed

Ozark, Ala., May 14.—A man said to be Perry N. Bell, son of a Washington, Ga., minister, was held in jail here today in connection with the shooting to death of Deputy Sheriff J. E. McGowan, of Dale county.

The shooting occurred late yesterday when McGowan attempted to arrest Bell about six miles from here. Bell is said to have pulled a large pistol, shooting McGowan through the head and a bullet through the hat of Policeman Metcalf, of Asbury, who accompanied McGowan. Bell is then said to have got into his car, drove over and crushed the fallen officer's body and proceeded toward Abbeville.

Bell was captured later two miles north of Skipperville by Sheriff White. When lodged in jail, an examination revealed five bullet wounds, none of which are expected to prove serious.

Bell is said to have admitted to officers that he was en route to Albany, Ga., with a carload of whisky. He missed his route when he was chased by the sheriff of Randolph county, Georgia, entering Alabama.

Funeral services will be held for McGowan Thursday at Midland City. He is survived by his widow and parents.

FATHER NOT TOLD OF SON'S ARREST

Washington, Ga., May 14.—(Special.)—Perry Nash Bell, 23, reported to have killed the sheriff of Dale county, at Ozark, Ala., today, and who was wounded in a gun battle, is a son of Rev. J. C. Bell, a local Baptist preacher, residing six miles south of Washington.

The father knew nothing of the difficulty until advised by The Constitution correspondent and was at a loss to account for the difficulty. He has had no communication from Alabama officers. Young Bell is unmarried and was employed by a Chicago picture house as traveling representative.

Previously he had been in the lumber business in Hancock and Warren counties.

He had been in correspondence with a girl in Ozark, but her name is not known.

AGREE TO ADJOURN CONGRESS ON JUNE 7

Washington, May 14.—Agreement was reached by republican and democratic house leaders at a conference with President Coolidge to work for adjournment of congress on June 7.

Legislation before the house was discussed in a general way by the president by Representatives Longworth, of Ohio, and Garrett, of Tennessee, the republican and democratic leaders; Chairman Snell, of the house rules committee, and Representative Garner, democrat, Texas.

Consideration was given to the bills which could be disposed of in time for adjournment for the national political conventions.

ROUTINE REPORTS OCCUPY BAPTISTS

BY DR. THOMAS M. ELLIOTT

The Southern Baptist convention continued its deliberations of the first day's sitting until a late hour Wednesday night, after having heard a convention sermon by Dr. Finley F. Gibson, of Louisville, the convention gave attention to the report of the board of education and that of the committee on certain of the various boards of the convention.

The education report, presented by Dr. Norman B. Cox, of Savannah, showed Baptists have gained progress in the educational program adopted in Atlanta five years ago, since the 75-million campaign has been in progress. Figures were given to show the convention now operates 119 schools, which have 33,265 students, a gain of 7,742. In the convention's schools there are 3,021 theological students, a gain of 1,054, while the school properties and endowments now amount to $44,873,961, a gain of $16,963,697.

RAIL LABOR BODY MAY HALT STRIKE

Chicago, May 14.—Facing a possible walkout of 55,000 western railroad workers, the United States railroad labor board has stepped in to avert a serious strike.

Members of the board unanimously voted to issue an order, directing representatives of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen and of the railroad managers to attend a hearing on their wage dispute in Chicago, June 3, unless a settlement should be reached before that date.

Determination of the labor board to intervene in the face of a strike threat came following an all-day executive session.

Labor members of the board said they wished to do all in their power to avert the walkout and gave no opposition to the issuance of the order.

Follows Advice of Break

The labor board's executive session and order followed receipt of a letter by Chairman Ben W. Hooper, from W. M. Jeffers, of the railway managers, informing him that discussions between employees and managers had been halted. Jeffers asked that the board assume jurisdiction in the dispute.

It was learned from brotherhood officials that negotiations between managers and employees ended late Monday when D. B. Robertson, representing the firemen, and H. P. Daugherty, representing the engineers, walked out of the conference room and failed to return. Later, they notified railway managers that the men were threatening to strike.

90 Railroads Involved

The letter to Hooper was the first acknowledgement of the break between the carriers and the employees. Robertson explained that the men wanted the same wages paid as those of employees of eastern railroads.

The increase the brotherhoods seek to force managers to adopt was inaugurated by the New York Central lines.

Western carriers, it was learned, refused to adopt the increase, urging the men would consent to working conditions similar to those which prevail on eastern railroads. The brotherhoods refused to meet this condition.

Ninety western railroads are involved in the dispute.

SHOWERS, CHILLY WEATHER IS MENU PROBABLE TODAY

Unsettled weather, with possible showers, is the weather outlook for today, according to C. F. von Herrmann, in charge of the local office of the U. S. weather bureau.

There is also likelihood that the unseasonal temperatures of the past week will continue for several days to come. A new cool wave has developed from the northwest and is advancing down the Rocky mountain slope, which means that the temperature will remain low in Georgia over today and Friday.

The mercury only reached about 65 degrees Wednesday, instead of the 85 which is normal for this time of the year.

Hen and Rooster Day Is Dawning, Court's Decision

Now that King Cotton is in danger of being replaced on the Georgia agricultural throne by Queen Diversification, the Georgia court of appeals stated in a decision handed down Wednesday that the dog has about had his day in Georgia jurisprudence and it is time to consider the hen and the rooster.

This comment came in a decision reversing verdict of a jury in Oconee county, which awarded $2 damages to J. A. Wilson, after E. P. Johnston had killed his setter dog. It was brought out at the trial that Johnston killed the dog after it had killed 48 white leghorn chickens belonging to him.

Wilson stated the dog was given him by Ty Cobb, of baseball fame, and he valued it at $150, aside from the sentimental value. Johnston offered this claim by asking for judgment against Wilson of $48, for his chickens, which he valued at $1 each. The jury decided the dog was worth $50 and awarded Wilson $2 damages.

The case was reversed by the appeals court, which held that the trial judge had erred in instructing the jury that Johnston had no right to kill the dog if it were worth more than the chickens. The higher court held that the effect of such a ruling would be that a man could not protect his property, such as chickens, until after he had ascertained the value of the dog killed by them.

The court of appeals decision referred to the fact that eulogies to the dog as "the friend of man" have been made in all cases where dogs have been involved. But this time, they said, it is time to consider the hen, so valuable to the modern Georgia farmer, and the rooster, who keep them for the eggs they lay.

STROKED FISH PURRS

Albany Man Claims New Honor for Pet Perch.

Albany, Ga., May 14.—A new fish story has at last been found. It is told by an Albany man, and a staunch disciple of Frank Walton. This member of the finny tribe has made its way to fame and is called a perch; however, he is perch or catfish, while or golden perch, it floats peacefully in the placid waters of a parlor aquarium.

Brooks Bosworth caught this little fellow, which appeared very frisky but entirely too small for the frying pan, hence the reason for its being installed in the bowl instead of pan.

The fact that this fish inherited from some unknown ancestor the peculiar trait of rising to the top of its bowl for fresh suvings flies, gracefully taken from his captor's fingers, has given him the rightful name of "King Fish."

But this educated fish is not limited in his accomplishments, for when satisfied he comes up at the snap of his master's fingers, and rubs his glistening back against his hand.

To show his entire satisfaction and gratitude this fish perched upon the hand of Mr. Bosworth in the gold fish bowl purrs especially when the moon is full, which seems to affect the emotional nature of captured fishes as well as unattached humans.

SENATOR WHEELER FULLY EXONERATED

Washington, May 14.—By a vote of 4 to 1, the senate investigating committee today held that the charges in the indictment returned against Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, by a federal grand jury in his own state, were unsupported by the facts. Senator Sterling, republican, South Dakota, declined to sign the majority report, which bears the signatures of Chairman Borah and Senator McNary, Oregon, republicans, and Senators Swanson, Virginia, and Cavanaugh, Arkansas, democrats.

Chairman Borah was directed to file the majority report with the senate at once. Senator Sterling is expected to file a minority report.

After reviewing the charges in detail, the committee's report concluded as follows: "Wholly Exonerates" Wheeler.

"The committee wholly exonerates Senator Burton K. Wheeler from any and all violation of section 3782 of the revised statutes of the United States, and finds he neither received nor accepted nor agreed to receive or accept any compensation whatever, directly or indirectly, for any services rendered, or to be rendered, to any person, either by himself or another, in relation to any proceeding, contract, claim, controversy, charge, accusation, arrest, or other matter or thing, in which the United States was a party, or directly or indirectly interested before any department, court, martial, bureau, office, or any civil, military or naval commission whatever."

"The committee further states that in its opinion, Senator Wheeler was careful to have it known and understood from the beginning that his services, as an attorney for Gordon Campbell or his interests, were to be confined exclusively to matters of litigation in the state courts of Montana, and that he observed at all times not only the letter, but the spirit of the law."

Senator Wheeler heard the reading of the report and then left the chamber. There was no comment by any senator, but Senator Borah announced he would discuss it at length at some later date.

CRACKERS MAKE CLEAN SWEEP OF MEMPHIS SERIES

Roy Carlyle, Chick Fielder, Crashes Homer Over Right Field Fence; Score, 3 to 2

Mueller Sold to Travelers; Dumont Out for Month

A. A. C. Cup Being Presented to President Scott Hudson

Injury To Pitching Arm Is Cause; Little Rock Is Here Today for Series

BY HENRY ALLEN.

Roy Carlyle, who seems to be making the Memphis Crackers a mighty good man, may not have been good enough for the Crackers a couple of seasons ago, but it is a certain fact that Bert Niehoff and Hollis McLaughlin will have plenty of respect for the youngster in future.

Although the Crackers trounced the cocky league leaders 3 to 2 in the final game of the series, the victory was not certain by any means after the eighth inning, when this same Carlyle person crashed out a homer over the fence on the right field bank to score a mate ahead of him.

This hit was by far the longest seen at Spiller field in some time, and no doubt will stand as mark for quite a while. The ball cleared the fence which rests on a 30-foot embankment, with plenty of room to spare. This feat put the Crackers within striking distance of the Crackers, and no one was resting easy until the final out was chalked up.

McLaughlin Pitches Well.

The Crackers were out to give the Chickies their third licking on the mound. This Little Cracker twirler, who incidentally goes into a tie with Kelly for the league lead, was in excellent form and allowed only five hits to the Chickies. He whiffed six Chick batters.

Cy Warmouth, who was boasting of a record of three games won and none lost, was the second Memphis pitcher to have his state spoiled by the locals. Warmouth pitched excellent ball with the exception of the fourth and sixth innings, when bunched hits pushed over the Cracker tallies.

There was lots of nice baseball played by both sides yesterday. The Crackers worked a perfect squeeze play to score one of their tallies, while the same Roy Carlyle referred to above made a mighty pretty catch. Wade also pulled down one which looked to be good for two bags.

Burrus Injured.

Dick Burrus, the Crackers' first sacker, was injured in the ninth inning, as the result of a collision with Cy Warmouth. Burrus started back into right field after Billy Gleason's high one and ran into Warmouth. He was removed from the game and Art Mueller took over the first base sack. His injuries will not keep him out of the game.

The Crackers were the first to score and pushed over two counters in the first inning. Paschal, first up, sent a hard bingle to left field. Burrus sacrificed. Red Smith singled over second and Ben Reed home. Krehmeyer was an easy out but Hills tripled to right center and Smith reported at the home fire.

The Crackers' final tally came in the sixth. Burrus was an easy out. Smith walked and stole second. Yarnan's throw was wild and "Red" went to third. On a squeeze play Smith scored and Krehmeyer was safe at first. This ended the scoring.

The Chickies' big inning, was the eighth. Barbare started the inning with a single to right. Wade hit to right center, who tagged Walter out on the base line. Bert threw wild to first and Wade stopped at second. Carlyle hit his tremendous clout over the right field fence scoring Wade. The Chickies threatened in the ninth when Lamotte reached first on Krehmeyer's error. The others were retired in order.

A. A. C. Presents Loving Cup To President Scott Hudson

Nine years of splendid, unselfish service as president of the Atlanta Athletic club brought to Scott Hudson yesterday one of the most magnificent marks of appreciation the club members could find to confer. It was a huge silver loving cup, and when it was presented to President Hudson by John E. Smith and Al Doonan, of the club, it was filled with huge white roses.

The presentation of the cup came as a complete surprise to President Hudson, who has been remaining at his home at East Lake for several weeks on account of illness. Members of the athletic club voted at their annual meeting recently to present this mark of their esteem to President Hudson. Mr. Hudson was prevented by illness from attending the meeting.

Carpentier Leaves for Michigan City Quarters

Chicago, May 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—After spending a day fighting crowds of curious that faced him everywhere, Georges Carpentier, ring lord of France, departed tonight for Michigan City, Ind., for a few days' rest before arriving in New York for his ten-round contest with Tommy Gibbons May 31.

Carpentier was accompanied by Jack Curley, his American representative; Francois Descombes, his manager; trainer Gus Wilson, Paul Fritsch, European lightweight, and Bartholome Molinero, a French-Italian middleweight.

Regardless of the outcome of his contest with Gibbons, Carpentier scored two victories since his arrival in America at noon yesterday. First, American lightweight champion, Gene Tunney, in the first round of a legal title fight was waging to prevent Carpentier from boxing Gibbons before meeting Tunney, the American.

Then, Carpentier established what was said to be a travel record from Paris to Chicago. He left Paris Wednesday at noon, sailing at 11:30 that night and arriving in New York at 12:30 p. m. yesterday, got away from the custom officers at 2:30 p. m., caught a train for Chicago at 3:55, and arrived here at 9:55 a. m.

The finals will be held at Birmingham, Miss., June 5 and 6. The entry lists considerably short of the expectations of officials, but delayed entries, which will be accepted if mailed by today, are expected to put the field over the 300 mark. Of those received, the eastern qualifying section has a slight majority with about 150.

organization to be known as the Producers' Cooperative association, was formed here today at a meeting attended by 173 naval stores operators, said to represent more than one-third of the production of turpentine and resin in the United States. The conference was held under the auspices of the West Florida Turpentine Operators' association. President L. M. Autrey, of Orlando, acted as chairman. The association will be incorporated under the laws of Florida, as a non-profit-making organization, with no entrance fees or dues. That's the news brought back by C. H. Walther, well-known Atlanta angler.

If they're not exactly whales, they feel like it, says Mr. Walther, who declares that dozens of the deep called lanes, weighing 50 pounds or over, are being caught frequently in the St. Andrews bay section.

Mr. Walther further confirmed reports that the king mackerel, running and said that he and a friend caught 27 on one trip, averaging about 10 pounds each.

Banish Dull Care.

Absolutely banishment of dull care for a full week is promised members of the tour in the detailed program of entertainment which arrived Wednesday from the Florida Fisherman's paradise.

Applications for the tour will be received in the highway department, first floor of The Constitution building, between 11 a. m. and 1 p. m., and 5 p. m. and 7 p. m. For anyone who hasn't a car, it is probable that transportation can be arranged with a driver who has an extra seat in his machine, and vice versa.

Have Cars Inspected.

Those who have made reservations for the tour, and those who plan to do so, are asked to take their cars to their respective dealers for inspection. Special check should be made of lubrication, ignition, brakes, lights, radiator hose and tires. Quick Tire Service, Inc., will send one of their well equipped tire service trucks, and will gladly check tire equipment and inflation for members of the tour, who take cars to the Quick Tire Store on West Peachtree street.

Ralph Cannon, of the Cannon Motor company, Whitehall and Forsyth streets, will be one of the expert mechanics on the tour, and those who find it more convenient to have him check their cars before leaving should do so at once. The Champion Spark Plug company, world's largest makers of automobile spark plugs, have an ignition expert en route to Atlanta to accompany the tour. Though this expert will be on hand should he be needed, one will be well to have ignition carefully checked before leaving. Old and worn spark plugs, even though they continue to give apparent good service, should be replaced if they have seen more than six or eight thousand miles service. New plugs always give better performance than old ones.

Fishing Is Fine.

Mr. Walther, sporting goods dealer, is enthusiastic about the fishing around Panama City. The huge 50-pound lane fish which are being caught there, he said, are related to the cod, and when caught hooked, he feels like a "ferry boat." The king fish are very plentiful, he says, and a tarpon, although this is not the season for them, is not at all improbable.

"The best time for catching king fish," he said, "is in the early morning. You hire a boat, after for deep water and drop over your troll line. A pair of binoculars will help, for you can see the king fish jumping out of the water. This is a sign they are feeding on menhaden or other small fish, and all you have to do is troll in that vicinity. You need lots of line, size 18 or 27, and a big spoon hook. The Plunger, size 5, is the best."

Mr. Walther also caught a nice mess of black bass and bream in the fresh water streams in the section.

He found them along the banks and had best luck bait casting with wooden minnows or casting a small spinner and pork rind with a fly rod.

POLICE CAMPAIGN
STOPS ACCIDENTS

Lines; 15, convicted of reckless driving, were assessed $590, with 37 speeders paying $375 into the municipal treasury. Eight cases were dismissed. Several defendants were convicted of passing street cars while passengers were being discharged. They were fined $25 each.

The heaviest fine of the day, $50, was paid by a negro who was found guilty of driving a heavy truck at the rate of 35 miles an hour. Fines ranged from $2 to $20. Recorder pro tem, A. W. Callaway, warned that fines might be doubled next week if the epidemic of traffic violations did not was considerably less. He expressed gratification over the effect of the present crusade and thanked The Constitution for its cooperation.

NO LET-UP IN CAMPAIGN
EXPECTED, SAYS BARNETT.

Meanwhile Captain Barnett was informing the safety council that the police will suffer no let-up in their war on speed and recklessness.

"The public may not realize that this is no trench raid," he asserted, "but that it is a real, determined war on the greatest menace to Atlanta's life and happiness, and that it will be waged to the finish. We will not stop until the streets of Atlanta are safe for everybody, which is to say until people quit breaking the law and drive and walk safely and safely."

SAFETY COUNCIL MEETING
DRAWS LARGE ATTENDANCE.

The meeting of the safety council was one of the most largely attended in recent months and the fact that a number of the busiest executives of the city dropped their work for two hours was pointed out by Shepard Bryan, president, as an indication of the interest being taken in the work of the council.

J. T. Hancock, president of the board of education, stated that he was convinced that the pedestrian in many cases is more at fault than the automobile driver and that while the law requires persons to cross streets only at intersections, the habit of jay-walking, especially in the residential districts, is continuous. Mr. Hancock stressed the point that this law was written for the safety of the pedestrian, but that many people apparently regarded inconveniences above their life.

R. J. Davison, representing F. J. Coolidge & Sons, made a forceful plea for a 52-week campaign for safety and

ROME TO ENFORCE TRAFFIC LAWS

Constitution Bureau, Masonic Temple Annex, Phone 1060.

Rome, Ga., May 14.—(Special.)—Judge Harpner, new city recorder, announced on assuming the duties of the office that punishment to all violators of the motor vehicle laws and traffic regulations of Rome would be meted out, to the limit. One of his first judicial acts was to fine a speeder $25. He requested the chief of police and members of the force to enforce the traffic laws and arrest all violators, whoever they might be.

Teachers Protest Rule.

Rome, Ga., May 14.—(Special.)—A vigorous protest against the ruling of the state department of education revoking all primary certificates and requiring teachers to stand examinations on all elementary and for high school subjects before a new license will be granted them.

The teachers contend that the five weeks intervening between the close of the present school year and the time for renewing licenses is too short a time to prepare for the examinations. They insist that one year's time be allowed teachers for preparation before the new rule is enforced.

Plan New Boulevard.

Rome, Ga., May 14.—(Special.)—As a result of the organization of a cited the fact that six cities in the United States did not have a single automobile fatality during the month of March. These cities were Omaha, Holyoke, Mass.; Evanston, Ill.; Butte, Salt Lake City and Sioux Falls, S. D.

St. Louis, with a population of 800,000, had seven deaths during the month of March. Buffalo, with more than 500,000, had only five deaths.

The safety council went on record as approving action of police and court and recommended changing sentences for speeders and reckless drivers, as authorized by the present traffic ordinance. This method of dealing with the reckless driver is recommended in a letter received by the council from the Atlanta Automobile association, stating: "The mere matter of imposing fines, even though large, does not seem to get at a great many of the offenders."

ONE NEGRO IS DEAD AND ANOTHER DYING.

One person is dead and another is believed to be dying as the result of an accident Wednesday. Both are negroes, the one killed being an eight-year-old negro boy, who was the victim of the wheels of a heavy motor truck.

The victim was Milton Johnson. He was crushed to death by a lumber truck operated by George Williams, negro, at West Hunter and Vine streets, shortly after the noon hour.

Call Officers J. O. Bonner and W. W. Ford, who investigated the accident, were told that the boy had been stealing a ride on the back of a touring car, and that he leaped from this machine directly under the wheels of the oncoming truck.

The driver of the truck was arrested. He claims the accident was unavoidable.

HIT BY STREET CAR.

The negro believed to be fatally hurt is Frank Bostick, who was struck down by a street car on the East Point line. No report of the accident has been filed at police headquarters, but it is claimed that the negro was hurt on Lee street, near Avon avenue.

Surgeons at the Grady hospital state that he has a compound fracture of the skull, and that his chances for recovery are slight.

Power company officials are investigating the accident.

Miss Emmie Singleton, whose address is given as the Howell Mill road, was treated at the Grady hospital for injuries she received last after 7 o'clock Wednesday morning when knocked down by an automobile driven by J. E. David, whose address was given as 161 Peachtree street.

Patrolman L. E. Brown, who reported the accident, stated that it occurred when David drove his machine into the alley between the Grand and Howard streets.

A charge of reckless driving was made against David by Officer Brown. The young woman will recover.

Maintenance and National Service

NATURE is both the ally and the enemy of the telephone.

One of her forces, electricity, carries the voice of man afar. Others, as flood, tornado or elect storm, can cripple communications in a large area through their devastating might.

Each pair of telephone wires in the Bell System is a pathway for reciprocal speech. When beaten down by the uncontrollable forces of nature, that pathway to fifteen million telephones is blocked, and none of the nation's voices can pass that way.

Reserve materials must be on hand, that storm damage may be repaired without delay. Adequate funds must be made available so that the cost of restoration may be met.

National telephone service is only possible through an organization capable of handling, on a nation-wide basis, the problem of maintenance as well as of operation.

Photograph by Mathewson & Price, Staff Photographers.

Miss Anna Knight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Knight, of North Moreland avenue, was awarded by popular vote Wednesday afternoon the Agnes Scott scholarship given by the Agnes Scott Alumnae association to the Girls' High school alumnae. The Appeal of Oriental Rugs

The product of a master's hand appeals to the eye, the spirit and the imagination.

Outer beauty does not make a piece of art.

However exquisite the surface loveliness of an Oriental rug, it is its inner beauty that makes the irresistible appeal.

A real artist knows the depths of despair and the heights of ecstasy and, in weaving his rug, runs the gamut of human emotions.

Do you wonder that your imagination is stirred as you gaze upon his product, that as you live with it your own spirit responds by a nearer approach to the ineffable ideal?

We are not satisfied to sell to you floor coverings that are merely floor coverings.

The purpose and possibility of an Oriental rug is infinitely more than that. If it does not stimulate finer living and deeper feeling it is falling short of its destiny.

It gives us much pleasure to exhibit our rugs to the beauty-lover who appreciates their full significance, regardless of a contemplated purchase.

The Half-Time Wife

BY VIOLET DARE

CHAPTER XL

Suzanne drew back in anger. How dared that policeman make them all stay, simply because some of the jewels were missing? They might have dropped on the floor. She glanced at Mrs. Vale, who was chatting gaily to some of the furious women whom the policeman was refusing to allow to leave.

"I know somebody here has taken them—a pair of earrings," the woman in charge of the exhibit was saying. "I insist that everybody be searched."

Lolita was trying to draw her mother aside and speak with her, but Mrs. Vale insisted on remaining with the group to which she had attached herself, and the girl could do nothing.

"What is it? What's the matter?" The house detective elbowed his way into the crowded, noisy room and the case was laid before him by half a dozen women at once, while the policeman tried in vain to make himself heard.

The detective glanced around, recognized Suzanne, Mrs. Haynes and several other women who were prominent in the city's social life. He realized that they must not be detained.

"No doubt the earrings are on the floor," he remarked, and began a search. Mrs. Vale, still at the edge of a group of women, dropped her handkerchief. Suzanne bent to pick it up, and felt something hard within it.

She glanced up, and her eyes met Mrs. Vale's. The woman blushed, took it quickly.

"Mrs. Vale," Suzanne murmured impulsively.

"Mother!" exclaimed Lolita.

Mrs. Vale turned away. A moment later she dropped her handkerchief, picked it up herself. And a moment after that the house detective found the missing earrings, near where she had been standing.

Suzanne did not want to tell Geoffrey of the accident. Yet she felt that something must be done. She was glad when he brought Curtis Leland home to dinner that evening, and later managed to talk with Geoffrey's old friend without interference.

"Tell me what it was," she urged excitedly. "That you started to speak of the other day. I've been so anxious to know. It seems as though I have waited ages to hear it. Is it about Mrs. Vale?"

He flushed with surprise.

"I wonder how much you know already," he began, looking at her quizzically. And then as Geoffrey's footsteps sounded in the hall and they both glanced apprehensively, he spoke quickly.

"Yes; it is partly about her. You must be very careful. Let her come here if you cannot avoid it without deliberately crossing Geoffrey's wires, but don't be seen with her anywhere else. Don't allow anything she does to make you angry. I'm sure you never confide in her, but he doubly careful that you say nothing of consequence in her presence. And Suzanne," he spoke her name caressingly. "Remember that everything is coming out all right. I will help you all I can. Geoffrey's a bit hard to understand sometimes, perhaps, but you can always count on him. Even," and he glanced at her appraisingly.

"Where Mrs. Vale is concerned."

A few minutes later Geoffrey and Curtis Leland were deep in a discussion of local politics that was so full of veiled references to people and issues that Suzanne knew nothing about them and just mused over the course events had taken.

She had been in her room only a few moments when after a timid knock Lolita entered.

"Now you know about mother," she sobbed, rushing to Suzanne's comforting arms, and you know how terrible everything is. Oh I am so unhappy. Something must be done."

"Yes, dear, yes," Suzanne murmured consolingly. "We'll see that everything comes out all right. I am going to help you."

FOR MAKING GOOD THINGS BETTER

FRENCH DRESSING FOR FRUIT SALADS

FRENCH DRESSING for fruit salads is more delicate if made with lemon juice instead of vinegar, and paprika instead of black pepper. It may be made up in quantity for two or three occasions, as follows: Two-thirds cupful Wesson Oil, one-third cupful lemon juice, one-half teaspoonful salt, one-quarter teaspoonful paprika.

Place in a jar. Shake until emulsified, or until the oil is broken up.

The only limit to the kind of fruit salads you can make is the number of fruit combinations you can think of.

A fruit salad must be put together with a dressing—otherwise it is only a fruit cup.

The Wesson Oil salad and salad dressing recipe booklet contains many delightful suggestions. Drop a postal to Wesson Oil, 206 Bay Street, Savannah, Ga., and ask for it.

An Opportunity To Convince Yourself!

If you heard that 70,000 progressive farmers had produced and were selling, direct from their farms, a richer and creamier evaporated milk—wouldn't you want to enjoy its high quality yourself?

Here is your chance. Ask your grocer for DAIRYLEA Brand Evaporated Milk. He will give you an evaporated milk that contains even more nutritious milk fats and solids than the high U. S. Government standards require. This is why DAIRYLEA has such a delicious, fresh, creamy flavor.

THE 70,000 farmers who produce and also sell DAIRYLEA to you insist on this increased merit and food value. They know this is the right way to ask you to consume more of their milk.

Such are the high business ideals that built up the Dairymen's League Co-operative Association—the world's largest organization of its kind. Each of its 70,000 farmer members shares equally in the control and responsibility of its $8,000,000 a month business.

YOU will find DAIRYLEA Evaporated Milk the concentrated wholesomeness of the purest fresh bottle milk—exactly the same milk which U. S. Senator Copeland, when Health Commissioner of New York City, called "the best in the world".

Ask your grocer and see that he gives you this familiar can:

Richer Creamier

WILLIAM WADDELL
ATLANTA, GA.

Convince Yourself!

I went to buy a hat. In the struggle I reminded myself of General Dooly and his study of Germany's finances with regard to reparations. Germany, we know now, has the resources, but not the willingness to pay. My situation was just the opposite of Germany's.

I went, as I said, to buy a hat. I had not bled my hair—yet. The new hats are made for the girl, the matron, the grandmother who does. "Pardon me," said each saleslady, "but if you didn't wear this coil of hair the hat would fit your head." Acid was her bobbed superiority—acid over the sniveling which would sell a hat. Art, in other words, showing through commercialism. I was acid, too, without the sniveling. I was not selling a hat. "Just the same," I said, "I don't expect to sacrifice my hair even to wear Moleit & Co.'s hats."

One peach of a hat after another went into the discard because it wouldn't fit my sniveling head. Then I got this idea: Why buck up against the times? Lead the procession if you can, but get into it. It isn't the parade that watches the spectators.

Speaking of hats, there are no moments in any man's career—especially a newspaper editor's—so impressive as those moments in which he delivers himself of a pronouncement on the slavery of women to fashion.

And there are no moments in which he falls shorter of his desired effect with the feminine parts of his audience.

I read such an editorial the other day, and if women took it seriously and put it into effect the average merchant would have to reorganize his buying system and the husbands would all be bankrupt.

The aforesaid editor bewailed the slavish adherence of women to prevailing styles which produce a fatiguing uniformity and besought the women of his home town to tear themselves away from this custom and seek what is unusual and suited to their own type. The women who read the article must all have smiled. In the first place, uniformity means economy. The theory, anyway, is that multiplication of styles makes for greater cost.

The woman therefore who seeks the unusual pays for it. Then this editor did not know, when he railed especially at the "cloche" hat, which seems to be his pet abomination (and we don't blame him), that the milliners, who, he says, control what the women wear, are really in desperation over the almost exclusive demand for this particular hat.

The creative milliners are in the same fix with the sculptor when he breathed life into his marble figure of a giant. Then the giant turned and rent him.

The Paris milliners created the cloche for a fad. Women everywhere so love its comfort that they will have nothing else, and one such hat suits many a woman's face.

Certainly in this case fashion and its makers are slaves to the women. Femininity Triumphant.

Those depressing prophets who see the charm of femininity submerged in the woman's race for economic independence must find real cheer in the admission by Cleopatra, queen of the bootleggers, otherwise Gertrude Lythgoe, at present of the Bahamas, that she'd rather "dance, play bridge, attend box parties, give house parties and do the society stuff" than buy and sell whisky on dark nights.

To some extent offsetting this truly cool and sweet avowal is Miss Lythgoe's other confession of the spirit of independence, acquired as a result of her somewhat adventurous career, which makes her rather careless of the idea of marriage.

"I'm not married," she says; "never have been and probably never will be. Maybe this is my great loss."

"But I've learned too much about men to be willing to play second fiddle to one, and the man I'd have given a snap for would not permit a woman to be boss."

The real woman sentiment. When run-running thus deprives the ranks of domesticity of a figure like the bootlegger queen, must we not mark up one more score against the pernicious condition of women in business which must some day call for a reckoning?

The Eternal Male. The men in the run-running profession, too, very naturally resent this encroachment of a woman, and a successful one.

There was "Chicago," of whom Cleopatra gives this moving description: "He was a decent enough boy when sober—a little rough, perhaps, though harmless."

"She's been interfering with us men long enough," yells Chicago as he boards Cleopatra's barge with blood in his eye. "It's time somebody had guts enough to treat her as she treats us. What if she is a skirt? She's got to understand that she's got to take it like a man if she wants to deal with men."

Run Romance. Miss Lythgoe does not conceal the fact that her life has not been without romance.

There was Marc Antony, for instance. It was in consequence of the marked attention (no pun intended) of this "tall, interesting looking gentleman" that Miss Lythgoe earned her nickname.

But perhaps who is right. The other Cleopatra was a shining warning that this queen business and outside interests, even romance, are not compatible. Cleopatra chose the romance, and where did it get her and Marc Antony?

The refining influence of woman. We would say it had its quintessence of expression in Raleigh. There a former commercial hotel has been remodelled for use as a Y. W. C. A. boarding home, and the entire upper floors of hotel days are converted into pots for plants.

The Glory That Was Grease. Mrs. Victor Donahoe, wife of the governor of Ohio, says that from the window over her kitchen sink she can look ten miles down the beautiful valley to the Zeeb hills and "I could wash dishes all day at that sink."

We should be willing to bet that it was a woman architect who first put a window with a good outlook over this dreary corner where some women while they attend this ugliest task still have to look at a blank wall.

It was a woman architect, by the way, who was the first of her profession we ever heard advance the extreme practicality of a side porch, whether or not the corner has one in front, because the sheltered position at the side gives the family a chance to escape when unwelcome callers come from the front walk!

Kindergarten To Give Diplomas. The closing exercises of the West End kindergarten will occur in the kindergarten rooms Friday morning at 10 o'clock. A diploma will be presented to Master Jack Eskridge, and blue ribbon certificates to Master Tom Foster and little Miss Peggy Polkburg. The pink ribbon for a year's unbroken attendance to Master Tom Foster.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS. Boiled Eggs. When boiling eggs, wet the shells thoroughly with cold water before dropping them into the boiling water. This will prevent cracking.

Place a clean white cloth over the top of bird's cage at night if bothered with canary lice. By morning it will be covered with the minute red pests.

On One Burner. There is nothing that so delights the economical housewife quite so much as to have her entire dinner cooking busily in the oven—all on the same gas burner.

Less Laundry. The time for dainties is at hand. Use them on the breakfast and lunch table instead of the long tablecloth and save expense and work during the warm weather.

Makes Cloth Like New. Boil five cents' worth of soap bark in two quarts of water for a half-hour. Brush cloth or garment until quite damp with washbrook dipped in solution. Cover with this cloth and press with hot iron.

Girls' High Sponsors Moving Picture Show.

The ways and means committee of the Girls' High is sponsoring a moving picture show to be given at the Commercial High auditorium on Pryor street Saturday afternoon, May 17, at 3:30 o'clock.

Two splendid pictures will be shown. The first one is of peculiar interest to Atlanta. It is "The Descent into Avernus," produced by the students of the Atlanta Girls' High school. This picture has been shown all over the country and has been recalled for this occasion. The other picture is "It Pays to Advertise." The music will be furnished by the Girls' High orchestra.

The entertainment will benefit the students' aid fund of the Girls' High school, a fund raised by the Girls' High P. T. A. and by the students of the school and used to help girls in need during the year. The help received may be considered a loan if the girl prefers to have it so.

Miss Jessie Muse and Miss Mary Moore will act as hostesses, assisted by the members of the ways and means committee: Mrs. Tom Brooke, chairman; Mrs. Frank McCormack, Mrs. T. C. Law, Mrs. Slaughter Linthicum, Mrs. R. K. Rambo and Mrs. Russell Bridges.

Mission Study Class To Meet in Decatur. The Mission Study class of the Woman's Missionary society of Pattiolo Memorial M. E. church south will hold an all-day meeting at the church, corner Feld and College avenues, Decatur, Ga., today, beginning at 10:30 o'clock. Dr. J. C. C. Newton, for 30 years a missionary and educator in Japan, will address the meeting. All the ladies of the church are invited to attend.

Oglethorpe Board Holds Meeting. The executive committee of the woman's board of Oglethorpe met Tuesday morning at the Atlanta Woman's club. Mrs. J. K. Ottley, chairman, presiding.

Mrs. Katherine Conner in a cordial speech, introduced the following new chairmen to the committee: Mrs. John M. Cooper, chairman of music; Mrs. Jones Yow, of Norcross, chairman of the Norcross division, and Mrs. A. L. Milligan, chairman of commencement day. The reports from various chairmen showed wonderful accomplishments, especially the girls' committee, of which Mrs. Gordon Burnett is chairman. Reports by Mrs. J. Cheston King and Mrs. H. G. Carnes, of the plays put on by the Oglethorpe Players' club, showed that both the tickets and program advertising had been the greatest financial success in the history of the club.

The following members were elected a nominating committee: Mrs. G. H. Brandon, Mrs. E. Rivers, Mrs. George Brine. Plans were perfected for commencement.

Mock Trial at Gordon School. The "mock trial" will be sponsored by Circle No. 3, Martha Brown Memorial church, Thursday, May 15, at 8 p. m., in the auditorium of John B. Gordon school, East Atlanta. HUSBAND SAID WHY NOT TRY IT

Wife Said She Would. Result, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Well and Strong

East Hardwick, Vermont.—"Last winter I was not able to do any work at all. I had backache, headache, sideache, and was sick all the time for six months. We read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers, and my husband said to me, 'Why don't you try it?' So I said I would, and he went and got me a dozen bottles. It has done me more good than I can ever tell, and my friends say, 'What have you done to yourself?' You look so well. I tell them it is the Vegetable Compound that makes me so well and strong. There is no use to suffer with backache and pains. I will tell every one what it has done for me."—Mrs. FRED. PRIMO, Route No. 2, E. Hardwick, Vermont.

Miss Hancock Weds Mr. Hall at Lovely Home Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Charlotte Rebecca Hancock to Cecil Robert Hall was a brilliant and interesting social event of Wednesday, taking place at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon at "Stillwood," the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Eugene Hancock, on Briarcliff road.

The Rev. L. O. Bricker performed the ceremony in the presence of a large assembly of relatives and friends. The lovely home was transformed into a bower of roses and spring blossoms. Palms, ferns, amilax and baskets of roses were arranged throughout the lower floor. The doorways and chandeliers were entwined with southern amilax and tied with white satin ribbon.

The improvised altar arranged in the living room was formed of palms and ferns which made a background of green for seven branched cathedral candelabra, with white burning tapers and interspersed with tall pedestal baskets of Easter lilies.

The ceremony was preceded by a selection of music, followed by the solo, "Oh, Promise Me," sung by Mrs. Susie Reese Kennedy. To the strains of Lohengrin wedding march, played by Mrs. Mildred Harrison French, accompanied by Mrs. Sullivan on the violin, the four bridesmaids entered.

Miss Alice Davis entered first, followed by Miss Le Fou Dancy, Miss Sophie Davis and Miss Eileen Bricker. The bridesmaids wore gowns fashioned alike of chiffon in pastel shades. Miss Davis wearing Nile green, Miss Dancy in gold, Miss Davis in orchid and Miss Bricker in blue. The brides of their gowns were made in basque effect, the skirts being long and full. Each bridesmaid wore a gold or silver ornament in her hair and carried an arm bouquet of pastel-shaded blossoms showed with sweet peas in many colors.

Mrs. Charles F. Scarratt, Jr., sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a becoming gown of flesh-colored crepe, fashioned with an accorcion pleated overskirt which was edged with cream lace. The long basque waist was trimmed with a deep bertha of lace. Fastened to her hair was a coronet of gold leaves, and she carried a cascade bouquet of sweetheart roses. Dr. Ralph Aiken acted as Mr. Hall's best man.

The lovely bride entered with her father, Walter Eugene Hancock, who gave her in marriage. She presented a charming picture in her bridal robes of peau de soie, heavily embroidered in pearls and crystals and fashioned along straight, modish lines. Her long veil was caught to her hair by a bandeau of pearls which was worn by her mother on her wedding day. She carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hancock entertained with a reception.

In the dining room the color scheme of pink and white was used. The bride's cake, embossed in pink roses, graced the center of the table which bore a Madeira cover. Encircling the cake was a plateau of pink roses and white flowers. Four silver candlesticks with unshaded pink and white tapers tied with pink tulle were placed at intervals, alternating with silver compotes holding pink and white mints.

Punch was served in the sun parlor from a crystal bowl embedded in pink roses, ivy and amilax. Miss Marian Ivy Harris and Miss Reg's Walker, who were gowned in pink, presided at the table.

Mrs. Walter Eugene Hancock, the bride's mother, wore a gown of beige crepe embroidered in seed beads and trimmed elaborately with ribbons. Her corsage bouquet was of lavender sweet peas.

The groom's mother, Mrs. M. T. Hall, was becomingly gowned in midnight blue crepe over sapphire-colored silk. Her corsage bouquet was of tea roses and sweet peas.

Miss Marjorie Hall, sister of the groom, was attractive in a peach-colored gown of pussywillow, which was scalloped and trimmed in blue.

Later in the evening Mr. Hall and his bride left for a wedding trip to points of interest in Washington and New York.

Upon their return they will be at home with the bride's parents at "Stillwood," on Briarcliff road.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Eugene Hancock. She is a graduate of the North Avenue Presbyterian school, and for two years studied voice under Mrs. A. R. Burt. She is very talented, possessing a beautiful mezzo-soprano voice, and is a member of the choir of the Associated Reformed Presbyterian church, and a member of the Tau Kappa club. Mr. Hall is a prominent young lawyer of Atlanta, associated with the firm of Alston, Alston, Foster & Moise. He is a graduate of Friendship High school in New York, and of the Atlanta Law school, and is a member of the Delta Theta Phi law fraternity, the Atlanta Bar association and the Atlanta Lawyers' club.

Tries Kellogg's Bran—restores health after 12 years of intense suffering

Mr. Firth writes that he suffered for 12 years from constipation and his friend for 10 years—a total of 22 years' suffering permanently relieved by Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled.

Gentlemen: For 12 years I had been troubled with indigestion caused mostly by constipation. Until about a year ago, I would suffer from 4 to 20 weeks at a time.

I happened to see your Krumbled Bran in a store, purchased a package and got almost immediate relief. I am still eating the Krumbled Bran every day.

The most wonderful results obtained with your Krumbled Bran I will now relate. A gentleman who has been taking medicine for about 10 years for constipation could not find anything to give him relief. Three weeks ago I advised him to try Krumbled Bran, as I had told him what wonderful results I had gotten from it. The gentleman in question purchased a box, and he told me that for the first time in ten years he is regular without taking medicine.

Yours for success,
William Firth, Jr., 56 Volan St.,
Merchantville, N. J.

Eaten regularly, Kellogg's Bran is guaranteed to relieve the most chronic case of constipation, or your grocer returns your money. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. The flavor is delicious. Try it in the recipes on every package. Made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.

How to Sell More Goods In Alabama

Southern manufacturers would do well to concentrate their sales efforts in the South, where lower freight rates, fewer traveling expenses for their salesmen, and less expensive advertising would enable them to meet competition. Many manufacturers are overlooking the fact that there are large markets right here at home which if worked intensively would yield big returns. For instance, the state of Alabama offers a big opportunity to sell more merchandise. It has many natural resources.

The Iron and Steel Center of The South

Besides nearly 6,000 square miles of coal deposits, there are over 7,500 square miles of brown and red iron ore. Birmingham is the center of the iron and coal region. There are found many large steel works, furnaces, foundries, machine shops, pipe plants, etc. Alabama produced in 1918 over eight million pounds of graphite—more than half the country's supply.

Over 6,000 Miles of Improved Roads

In keeping with other states, Alabama has made great progress in road building. The last four or five years have seen a wonderful development; and in two or three years the state will have completed a system of roads which will affect the selling and distribution of goods. Now a salesman can travel in a car from one dealer to another at a great saving of time and money.

Alabama a Prosperous and Flourishing State

Besides being one of the largest cotton-producing districts in the world, Alabama also has great pine forests, producing over a billion feet of wood annually—besides a hundred million feet of hardwood. Production of naval stores is large. In the Southern part of the state, Truck, Satsuma Oranges and other Fruits are grown. Of course, the great agricultural crop of Alabama is cotton, but the state also produces cane syrup, dairy products, and nuts. Manufacturing has doubled in the last ten years. Oysters and shell fish are plentiful. Alabama has an export and import trade thru Mobile; and nearly 5,000 miles of steam railroads.

The South is Your Best Market

One Year To Live

BY JOHN HUNTER

"You are so quick to perceive cow-ardice in others, my friend, that I be- gin to suspect you of knowing much of its symptoms from actual expe-rience," he said gently. "Before putting the proposition before you, I would emphasize this: All my life I have been educated in the use of arms. I mention it so that you will realize that I am not attempting to evade the use of the accepted weapons of dueling."

"You mean you will not fight with either sword or pistol?" he exclaimed. "Exactly."

Felice laughed. "Impossible! You will want to use fists next, like the English."

"Not at all. But consider, if a man is killed by sword thrust or pistol shot there is an immediate outcry. For what I propose we need no seconds. We need nobody except ourselves."

He learned forward. "If a man cares to poison himself in a quiet place then his relatives are sad, there is some mystery about it all, but no fu-rious scandal."

"What do you mean?" Felice was plainly bewildered.

"My suggestion, bluntly, is this. That one morning, at say, 8 o'clock, you and I meet at a selected place in the Bois. There is a bottle of cham- pagne and—a little bottle of poison. I believe veronal is quite pleasant and easy to obtain. We play. The loser drinks a cup of champagne, the drink of the gods, and in the cup is suffi- cient veronal to kill him."

Felice leaped back. It was fantastic to the point of absurdity, the maddest duel he had ever heard of.

"Play what?" he demanded.

"I had had cards in my mind, but the gamble might be unfair, that, at whatever game we chose, one of us might be the superior of the other. Therefore, I suggest dice. Three dice, with the one spot counting as aces, the highest throw of all. The dice might be bought, set in a sealed pack- age and opened only in the glare. The gods of chance could decide the rest."

Felice wanted to deride the whole suggestion, but detested himself asking questions as to details.

"How would we get there?"

"In our own cars. They would be left on the right road, close to the glade. The survivor would drive back in his."

Felice got to his feet.

"At you determined not to make use of the usual weapons?"

"Absolutely. Mine is the choice, and I have told you how I have chosen."

Felice went to the window and stared out at the sunset street. It was all fantastic. And yet—Ahmed had chosen of weapons. He turned about.

"If I accept this proposition, I in- sist on the presence of a third party."

"Whom would you suggest?"

Felice reflected. "There is a man known to both of us, sufficiently friendly, he is shrewd. I refer to Monsieur Le Comte Mordac."

"I agree," said Ahmed quietly. "And so we meet on those terms?"

"Yes."

it that afternoon, and had had no proper opportunity for telling her in the theater. His own part in the af- fair he entirely suppressed.

She listened quietly, her face very still and composed, her eyes wide.

"But—it is cold-blooded murder!" she gasped.

"Selective suicide," corrected Mor- dac. "I believe they do it to spare you."

She moved as though to get from the table. "I must stop it! I must stop it!" Mordac was afraid she was going to make a scene.

He leaned forward and patted her hand. "Tomorrow morning, Cherie. Tomorrow morning. At eight forty-five."

CHAPTER XL.

Mordac kept Elise in the restau- rant. It was one of the most difficult tasks of his life. At last he suggested it was time for Elise to go home.

"I don't want to go," she said. "I feel that I dare not be alone. I want to sit here until it is time to start for the Bois."

"But that is impossible. Why are you so upset about this little inci- dent? There are some who would have found a wonderful advertisement in it."

"I find only shame. Had they never met me they would never have quar- reled."

Mordac smiled at her. "You re- fuse to face the facts of life, Cherie. They have met you. It is accom- plished. Enfin! What would you?"

"There are only two facts, mon- sieur—life and death. The rest are of our own making."

"A noble creed," observed Mor- dac. "But it is not a noble one."

"Imprecable? Have you never looked back and found an 'if' in all those things that have happened to you?"

"There were no 'ifs' in this or that, results would have been differ- ent."

"Which reduces 'if' to the one fac- tor of life, ma cherie. And now I shall take you home."

Elise knew she was not going to sleep. She called for coffee and a book. It was a sternly that night.

Surely they would listen. She com- forted herself with this, while fate mocked her.

On that night Lolette's great black and gray dressing room was empty of all save herself and her dressers.

Like Lolette, the place had undergone an indefinable change. But the glitter- ing false, the richness was as fin- sel. The great room reflected the change in the fortunes of its mistress.

There were times when the empti- ness of her room, the absence of ad- mirers, sent Lolette into those flaring rages of hers. This night she did not appear to notice it.

It was after her second appearance, when she was finished for the eve- ning, and was half-dressed in her out- door clothes, that Heloise, answering a knock at the door, came back with her face flushed and excited.

"Madame, there is Pierre outside."

"Elise—went to Brunel!" Kendrick, despite his short acquaintanceship with the man, had a fair idea of Brunel's capabilities and character.

"But, yes. And Brunel became her friend."

"I see." Kendrick's cheeks had lost some of their tan. "And then?"

"Lolette gestured magnificently. "And then she became famous. It was a natural consequence. Brunel can make anybody he chooses. He is won- derful. She had some ability. He had the money and the influence. Surely you have heard of La Phalene?"

Kendrick shook his head. "There was a great protest outside the station. I remember now. The letters were inches long. 'Yes! The English baronet gave her the Rolls Royce. The Count Mordac—you will remember him—he gave her a Hispania Suiza; and then there is another from one of your own countrymen, and an Isotta Fras- chini.'"

"Mordac!" repeated Kendrick, and remembered all he had thought about Mordac where women were concerned, and remembered how afraid Elise had seemed of the man.

It was stupendously incredible. She must either have changed completely or be the most consummate actress in the world. If she had not changed, then she had deceived him at their first meeting as he had never been de- ceived in all his life.

He ventured to doubt. "But surely it is impossible for that little girl I knew to have done all this!"

Lolette laughed. "I knew you were feeling serious about it. You are dis- appointed?"

"Extremely. I thought—I had hoped—well, I considered her out of place in your dressing room."

"Monsieur!" It was mock repro- ving.

Kendrick attempted no apology. How truly regretful he had been that work and business worries had pre- vented him writing to Elise.

Lolette sighed. "Oh—well, we are friends. We can be frank without tears. I think. But—voilà! She is La Phalene. There is no doubt in that, monsieur. And if you stay in Paris over one more evening you may see her dance for yourself at the Joyeuse. Perhaps—with a sky look from under the heavy eyelids—she may deign to receive you in her dressing room."

Before they left the restaurant she said, "And are you still addicted to early rising, monsieur?"

"I like a walk before breakfast," he confessed.

"You were always energetic. Now I have become afflicted with that fever also. I find there is a surprising joy in the early morning. I think tomor- row will be fine, and I shall ride then. Would you accompany me?"

This was like the invitation for sup- per. There was nothing else for it.

"What do you call early?" he asked.

"Oh—eight o'clock. You will come, won't you? It's just my fate, you know. I shall soon be abed till noon, as before; but for the moment I must take the morning air."

"I shall be pleased to come," said Kendrick. "But I insist on driving you."

He saw her home, and her last words were: "Eight o'clock tomor- row morning, and a glorious drive through the Bois. You won't forget?"

"Billy" Sunday

Reaches Chicago
Much Improved

Chicago, May 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—"Billy" Sunday, world famous evangelist who played baseball and became converted to Christianity in Chicago, arrived here today, accompanied by his wife and physician, in much better condition and spirits than he has been in for six days. Dr. R. L. Sanders said.

The athletic evangelist, on his way to the Mayo clinic at Rochester, Minn., for treatment of a kidney ailment, showed his accustomed fire.

"I came here in '33 with one dollar in my pocket and my right hand clenched to defend it from the holdup men I had heard infested Chicago," he said.

"At 7 a. m. I went to Spaulding's store and was disappointed to find it closed. Then with my hair long and wearing a seven dollar suit, I went over to the baseball park where I could kick any other nine that ever crawled into uniforms."

Sunday's conversion in Chicago at the old Pacific Garden mission, which moved five years ago to other quarters out of the busier downtown district, was brought suddenly to mind when flowers from the mission were with him.

"We feel as though we belong here," he said. "I met the Lord here 36 years ago."

It was on a Sunday that "Billy" Sunday, because baseball then was not played on Sunday, sat on the curb along across from the mission and heard the exhortations of sinners. He walked inside and announced his conversion. When he entered evangelism he adapted the "hit and run" tactics of the diamond to his "saw dust trail."

Rev. Mr. Sunday and his wife will remain in their special car until 8 p. m. tonight when it will start for Rochester.

E. Marvin Underwood, attorney, Wednesday was promoted to first vice-president of the Atlanta chamber of commerce to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of J. P. Allen.

Former Councilman Claude Ashler, now a delegate to the central body from the operating engineers, sanctioned what had been said about opposition to the divorcement of the schools from church.

Delegate Robert E. Gann, of the printer's union, declared that there was no time to get such instructions from the central body, which he did not meet until last night. He defended his ground, and the action of the committee upon the statement that the matter was of such vital importance to the working people, and that the enemies of the plan to divorce the school system from church, on hand ready to make the fight against it.

I bought 10 tons of coal last winter from five different dealers. The two tons I bought from you went further, had less ashes and gave me better satisfaction than any of the others.

That's what people tell us every day. Lowest prices on good coal. We personally superintend the putting in, which means best service.

TAX NOTICE
Since there are fifteen to twenty thousand people in Fulton County who have failed to make State and County tax returns for 1924, to save these delinquents from penalty of the double taxation, I am extending the time for a few days.
I am forced to make my digest, so let us have your returns at once.
Respectfully,
W. H. ABBOTT

Why Is Coffee?
What does coffee do for the human race?
For one thing it gives employment to an immense number of the world's workers.
More than a billion dollars are invested in coffee plantations, two-thirds of which are in Brazil. Most of the Brazilian Coffee is grown in the state of Sao Paulo (St. Paul) where the plantations cover two million acres. Coffee, like cotton, is not a native of America, but has its great development in this hemisphere. It was introduced in Brazil the same year that General Oglethorpe landed in Georgia.
Coffee and cotton are the two great international crops of America, playing a large part in the world's commerce.
Try EMPIRE COFFEE and you will understand the secret of Coffee's popularity.
